CLOSING DATE:

At Humanimal Trust, we are striving to build a bridge between doctors, vets, allied professionals and researchers, so they are able to learn from each other for the benefit of all species. This is One Medicine.

We invite you to explore how the principles of One Medicine could shape a better and more ethical future for all species. We would like you to think deeply and creatively about the relationship between humans and animals, and how we can work together for the benefit of both. Inspiration and questions to think about can be found on our website, along with entry details, terms and conditions.

Entries will be judged by our panel, featuring our patron, Intensive Care Consultant and author, Dr Matt Morgan. The winner of this category will receive a virtual, 1-2-1 meeting with Matt to discuss One Medicine.
